Local officials’ assessments about Michigan’s current direction and state government performance:
Findings from the Spring 2018 Michigan Public Policy Survey (MPPS)

July 31, 2018
Presenters: Tom Ivacko and Debra Horner
For the MSU Extension Current Issues Affecting Michigan Local Governments Webinar Series
Presentation Outline

• Brief overview of CLOSUP and the Michigan Public Policy Survey (MPPS)

• Trends of local government officials’ views on:
  ✓ Whether the state of Michigan is headed in the right direction or is off on the wrong track
  ✓ Governor Snyder’s job performance
  ✓ The Michigan Legislature’s job performance
Background: CLOSUP

• The Center for Local, State, and Urban Policy (CLOSUP) was founded at the University of Michigan’s Ford School of Public Policy in 2001

• A small research center with a core staff of permanent employees and additional student research staff and faculty working on a wide variety of research projects, events, & courses

• The Center’s primary mission is to conduct and support applied academic research that informs local, state, and urban policy issues, both in Michigan and beyond
Background: The MPPS

• A census survey – all 1,856 Michigan counties, cities, villages, and townships

• Respondents – chief elected and appointed officials

• Administered – online and via hardcopy

• Topics – wide range, such as fiscal health, budget priorities, roads, public safety, economic development, intergovernmental cooperation, service privatization, employee policies, labor unions, environmental sustainability, Great Lakes, citizen engagement, much more.
MPPS is not a typical opinion poll

- 70+% response rates

- Transparency
  -- Questionnaires online
  -- Pre-run data tables online
  -- Sharing of (anonymized) datasets with other researchers

- Expert advisors on questionnaire content

- Research partnership with Michigan local government associations
  -- MAC, MML, & MTA

- Borrowing from other proven sources such as NLC and ICMA

For the second straight year, the percentage of Michigan’s local leaders who are optimistic about the state’s direction has increased. Statewide, over half (56%) believe Michigan is headed in the right direction, while a third (33%) say the state is off on the wrong track. Republicans officials are much more likely to be optimistic.

Local leaders’ positive job approval ratings for Governor Rick Snyder have risen for the second year in row as well, to 52%. But although 68% of Republican officials say he’s doing an “excellent” or “good” job, 49% of Independents and 23% of Democrats say the same.

Performance ratings for the Michigan Legislature trail both other metrics.
